

Trees for the Future
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
October 19, 2010

MEDIA ALERT

Trees for the Future Exhibits at D.C. Green Festival to Advocate Sustainable Agroforestry Practices

What: Trees for the Future, a leading nonprofit organization that plants trees by providing seeds, agroforestry training materials, and in-country technical assistance to communities worldwide, will showcase its resources and achievements at the nation's largest sustainability event. The organization will provide newsletters, brochures, and free bumper stickers, and visitors will have the chance to meet members of the Trees for the Future team and hear their stories out in the field.

Where:

The 7th Annual Green Festival
Washington Convention Center*
801 Mount Vernon Place, NW
Washington, DC 20001

*Trees for the Future will display its exhibit at booth 229 in the community action section.

When:

October 23-24
Saturday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m.
Sunday, 11 a.m. – 6 p.m.

Contact:

Alison Beckwith
301-699-0148
alison@treesfft.org

Background Information:

Headquartered in Silver Spring, Md. and founded in 1989, Trees for the Future is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization helping communities around the world plant trees. Through seed distribution, sustainable management and agroforestry training, and in-country technical assistance, it empowers rural groups worldwide to restore tree cover to their lands, protect the environment and help to preserve traditional livelihoods and cultures for generations. To learn more, visit: <http://www.plant-trees.org>.